Robert Auli-Delmar Plans.

Robert Auli, president of the Pair Association, did not return bome from Chicago yesterday, but he telegraphed Johnny Hachmeister to announce that the Fair Association's spring meeting would be inaugurated on May II. This will give Kinloch Park a chance to run at least a month next spring, as racing is permitted in the State under the breeders' bill after April 15. It is not anticipated that the new Delmar track to be built by the Cella-Tilles-Adler combination will be in shape before June.

L. A. Cella is now in Chicago inspecting the new Worth track, which has a grand stand without a post in it that obstructs the view of spectators. A lot of steel will enter into the construction of the new stand at the new Delmar track, which is going to cause the main delay in building the track, it being rather difficult to get steel right now.

BY MRS. ROBERT FITZSIMMONS. PEPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Dec. 29,-"Although my hus band, Robert Fitzsimmons, has often and publicly announced that he will not again enter the prize ring, there are those who doubt him, or who pretend to doubt him. I wish every one to understand, both his friends and his enemies—he would not be the man he is if he had no enemies—that he has left the prize ring forever, because I wished him to.

He is the kindest and best of husbands and fathers.

It was enough for me to tell him be would make me very happy, that he would enhance the future welfare and happiness of our children, if he would stop fighting.

"Robert stopped fighting.
"Robert stopped fighting.
"Robert stopped fighting.

Naturally, it cost me some pangs to make this demand of my husband. Every woman will understand—for every w man worthy of the name admires manly conface and strength—that it was a delight to me to welcome Robert when he returned to me after beating down, annihilating, his opponent in the ring.

Kuttuckians to a man back Leitenant Gibson in the Washington a tame third to Sidney Lacus in the brown coil showed the bluegrass trainers a clip that not even Himdoo had been able to equal over the listoric course at Louisers children and the call' when he started in the city where he was owned. The result of the race and the coil's subsequent running here were a great disappointment to his owner, and the general opinion was and some limit he was that he had broken down and been fired for a bowed tendon. About the same time His Excellency, a coil that Mr. Smith bought for $2,000, also went wrong, and was subjected to the same sever treatment. At the time the weather was heafferably bot in Chicago, and His Excellency, after enduring agony for a week or more from the action of the firing iron, died in his stall.

Robert, to me, is the embodiment of all that is manly.

He is The Man to me.

So I have always been very proud to embrace him and congratulate him after be has triumphed over brute force.

For Robert fights with his head; his fists are his thoughts; his mind impresses itself on the puny heads of his antagonists.

Besides, in asking Robert to withdraw from the ring which he has honored, I have made other sacrifices. Robert carned a great deal of money in the ring—but money cannot buy happiness.

When I asked Robert to put aside his more strenuous life, I knew that force, directed by the stronger brain, has done most to advance civilization. I have read much history, and, while this truth does not always appear on the surface, it is still the truth.

Had Robert and I lived in the old days
I would have been queen of the tournament, as I am now. For Robert, then as now, weapons on earth, controls himself. He will do as I wish. In future Robert will devote himself to the drama, where his influence will be entirely for good.

The press, the stage, the pulpit,
You see, I place the three great influences for good in the order of the size of their audiences.

Newspapers talk to hundreds of thousands, and, therefore I take this means to let the people know that Robert will fight let the people know that Robert will ingut no more.

Thesters hold more people than churches, I am glad to say that Robert has had very good audiences. He deserves them. His play, "The Honest Blacksmith," teaches a good lesson and points a good meral. It shows to every young man the advantage of having a trade. Robert makes a real horseshoe on the stage.

If he were not the most wonderful fighter and a good actor he would be the best blacksmith in the world. He learned the trade when he was young.

I would rather see him at the forge than in the ring

The pilay points a good moral because liany is baffled and virtue triumphs. I hope I have not written too much, sir. This is my last word on the subject, something you men say a woman must have.

Robert will not re-enter the prize ring.

This coult is in the Futurity, the Matron, the National Stallion and other 2-year-old events of Bol. His stake engagements have an aggregate value of probably $250,000. He thought his coil Commando should have won the stake, but I am satisfied that if the rac had been run on its merits, Alard Scheck would have come home on the bit.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 28.—Jupiter Pluvius continue a to reign at the Fair Grounds this afternoon, and, consequently, the course was a quagmire, Omy a handful of speciators witnessed the races.

Four of the races resulted in close and exciting finishes, and the winners were in doubt until the official placing.

The feature of the afternoon was the New Orleans Handicap, at seven furiongs, for all ages. Seven accepted the issue, of which Alpaca was the favorite at 13 to 5, while Charlie O'Brien was a heavily played second choice. After a two-minute delay at the post, the field was sent away, with Alpaca showing the way, and the others close up. Alpaca led the way until the stretch was reached, when Moroni chailenged her, and the two fought it out to the wire, Moroni winning by a half length and all out Old Fox was third, four lengths away.

The strendschase resulted in a vactory for Doctor W. S. Spencer has lost no time in accepting the challenge of Ed Prendergast to a shoot for the Mermod trophy and has named New Year's Day at 2 p. m. as the time. This will give three rattling good live bird events for the afternoon in addition to the six target matches in the morning. Doctor Spencer and Ed Prendergast should farmish about the most interesting match of the season, as they are both bringing down the pigeons at about the same rate and each has the coolness, which means that the last bird will about decide the shoot. means that the last bird will about decide the shoot.

General interest is taken in the open shoot for the DuPont Park medal, which was donated by Bave Elliott. As most any of the locals can kill out their ten straight when in good form, the event is expected to be closely contested at all times. The triss-and-out style of deciding the ties will bring forth the cool shots, who shoot as well under exciting circumstances as when everything is coming their way.

Doctor Spencer's acceptance follows:

"Sporting Editor of The Republic: I accept the challenge of Mr. Edward Frendersast to shoot for the Mermod Trophy and name Tuesday, January I, 1901, at 2 p. m., as the time for same. Respectfully.

"DOCTOR W. S. SPENCER."

and all out. Old Fox was third, four lengths away.

The steeplechase resulted in a victory for ex-Jockey Tom Costello's Isen, the favorite. The daughter of Ladwig went to the frent at the first jump and won, eased up, from the sixteenth poic by six lengths. Cal Claroba steepped into a hole after taking the second jump, and went down.

The firth, for all-ages, at a mile, produced a nose fluish between Donna Seay and Senator Beverldge, the 2-year-olds who were the two choices. Donna Seay managed to win the last jump.

Gracious, a 2-year-old filly, stood a hard drive all down the scretch in the second, a selling affair at six furiouse, and won in the final strides from Scrivener, the second choice. Orion, the heavily backed favorite, was shy on speed and finished in the ruck.

Bright Night was rinden out in the list to beat Nearest, who was at a fancy price in the betting.

Belle of Orleans, the odds-on, took the closing event in a gailor.

Belle of Crivains, the outs-in, took the closing event in a gallop. Starter Fitzgerald arrived here to-day and will resume his duties Monday. The super-slows against Jockeys "Tip" Walsh, "Bob" Flick and "Spike" Weber Walsh, "Bob" F have been raised.

About the only feature of the contest was the playing of John Gibson, who occasionally took it into his head to show the spectators what he could do, and gave a good exhibition of dribbling and passing. There was hardly any way to get a real line on the ability of the visitors, as it was very evident that they were keeping themselves in reserve for the hard game with the Christian Brothers' College eleven Part of Ed Corrigan's and Marcus Daly's Strings.

San Francisco, Dec. 2, Horses belonging to Edward Corrigan and the estate of the late Marcus Daly were sold at auction at Tanforan to-day.

The Corrigan horses brought $5.59.

John Mackay of Rancho del Paso was the principal purchaser. Pat Dunne paid $1.50 for a gelding by imp. Bassetlaw-Miss Maxim. The stallion Montana, owned by the Daly estate, was sold to John Mackay for $1.09. Other prices received were Artilla, $509. John Mackay; Rathagar, $700, Albert Simons; Wallenstein, $5.75. The picked team appeared as eleven novices at most times, and the only men who played the game for them were Robinson and Lewis. The latter let up in the last half, but "Big Robbie" held the pace all the way through, and played a conscientious game. With most any one class in the goal, the Canadians would have inted so often that it would have been a difficult matter to keep track of the score Jackson, in the forward line, scored five of the eight goals made by the Rangers, but did not seem to play a brilliant game. URETHRAL STRICTURE And Its Absolute Cure by Doctor Cook.

My new and original system of treatment for Urethral Stricture cures the disease without cutting or dilating, thus avoiding the horrors of surgery. It is the only treatment that should be used, and the only one recommended by the multitude of men who have recently been cured by it. It acts immediately and directly upon the Stricture, dissolving it completely and dislodg-ing all diseased tissue, which comes away in strips or shred-like fiber, allaying all irritation and inflammation, and leaving the urethral canal entirely free from obstruction and in a sound and healthful condition.

W. A. COOK. M. D. bealthful condition.

I also cure to stay cured STRICTURE. CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON. NERVOSEXUAL DEBILITY and all reflex complications and associate diseases and weaknesses of men. To these maiadies alone I have carnestly devoted 23 of the best years of my life. Physicians naving stubborn cases to treat are cordially invited to consult with me. I make no charge for private counsel, and give to each patient a legal contract in writing, backed by abundant capital, to hold for my promise. Is it not worth your while to investigate a cure that has made life anew to multitudes of men?

If you cannot call at my office, write me your symptoms fully. My home treatment by correspondence is always successful. Address all letters to
